In the battle for revenge against Heero, Duo's Gundam Deathscythe was outfitted with wing equipment. Set on both sides of the backpack, the wings deploy during flight mode. While smaller than those of the Wing Gundam, these wings give Deathscythe equal aerial capability in combat. However, the fact Duo didn't pursue the withdrawing Wing Gundam may indicate Deathscythe's ranged flight ability is restricted to some degree.

ACCORDING TO THE OPERATION, I'LL CUT DEEP INTO ENEMY LINES WITH MY HIGH-SPEED ASSAULT EQUIPMENT.
FOR THE DAWN OF THE COLONIES!

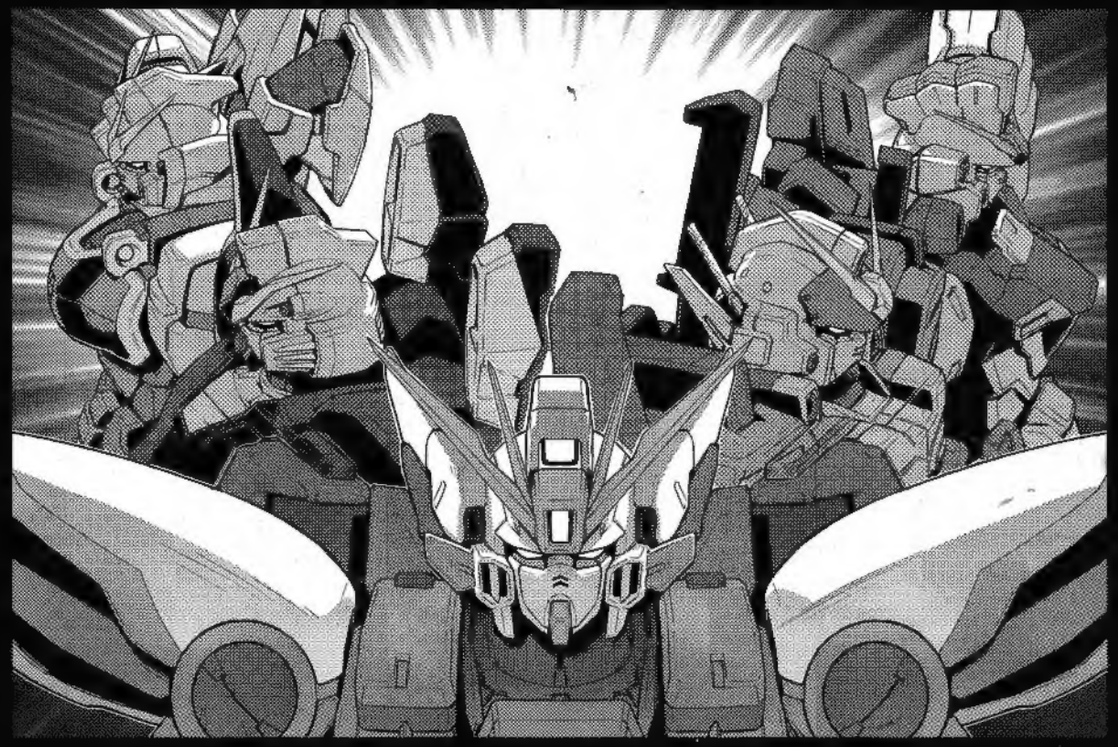
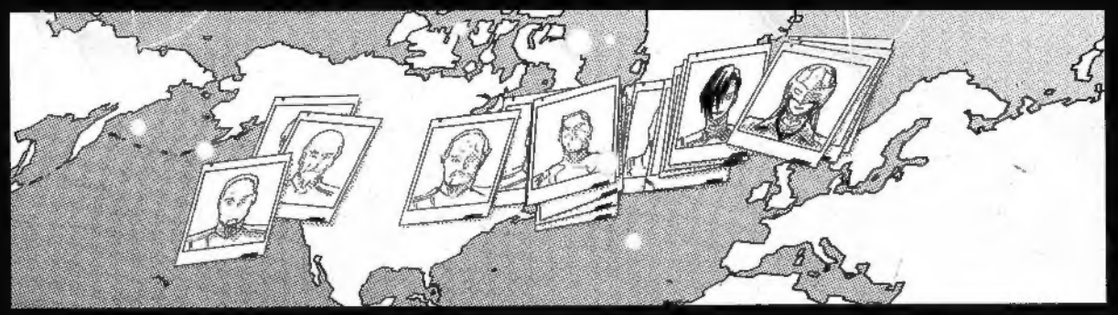
HAHAHA, DON'T BE PUT OUT NOW...
DON'T LAUGH, MUELLER.

Furthermore, while the Gundams' actions were an unanticipated anomaly during its execution, their gathering at the New Edwards base contributed to the success of the operation.



Operation Pleiades, whose objective is to completely dissolve the United Earth Sphere Alliance in one swift move.



With the Alliance Forces Chiefs of Staff gathered at the New Edwards base on the west coast of North America, the deficiency in the chain of command at several principal military bases left them open to the synchronized, simultaneous attacks of OZ's elite units.

I'LL BE COUNTING ON YOU TO BACK ME UP, NOIN!
UNDER-STOOD.
THIS IS YOUR CHANCE TO TAKE REVENGE.
ALL MOBILE SUIT TROOPS HAVE LEFT THE CARRIERS.
